

Introduction for DENNIS WARNER

Reminder to please silence all cell phones.

Today's (Tonight's) performer is Dennis Warner.

Dennis' career has taken him to theaters, festivals, universities, clubs, schools and community gatherings in every state.

In recognition of his contributions as a songwriter, he performed in concert at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C.

Based on radio play around the world, his ninth CD "SEEDS" was named one of the top albums in folk music for 2012. He was also named one of the top musicians in folk music that same year.

Though he has now released ten CD's, many of us know him as the author of the popular book, "BEADS ON ONE STRING".

His book and CDs will be for sale (at intermission and) after the concert.

He loves to laugh and smile, and we're excited to have him here today (tonight).

Please welcome recording artist DENNIS WARNER.
